SOME QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

TO THE COMMERCIAL EDITOR OF THE INDEPENDENT:—

Having a few thousand dollars that I shall not need in my business, and being naturally desirous of obtaining an investment which will produce the greatest income consistent with entire safety, I am led to ask you the following questions; which I shall be glad to have you answer, either privately or through the columns of the Independent:

1. Do you think that, as a rule first mortgage railroad bonds are a desirable investment? In what do they differ from a first mortgage on ordinary real estate?

2. I notice you recommend Northern Pacific seven-thirties to investors. Why do you regard them as unusually secure?

3. Is the government pledged to the payment of these Northern Pacific Bonds?

4. I notice they are selling at par. Isn't this too high? Cannot good railroad securities be bought cheaper?

5. I hold a few five twenties; do you believe the government will soon call for their surrender?

6. What assurance have investors that Northern Pacific seven-thirties will not hereafter depreciate below the price which they are now sold, compelling those who wish to realize on them to do so at a loss?

TO THE ABOVE THE INDEPENDENT ANSWERS:

I. Thus far the first mortgage bonds of American railways have proved to be among the very safest securities. In proportion to amount, they have probably shown a smaller per centage of loss in interest and principal than any other investment that has been accessable to the people. Such has been the history of railway securities. Of course there have been exceptional cases of mismanagement and loss; but far oftener have imperfect titles, lapsed insurance policies, and shrinkage of value rendered real estate mortgages a bad investment. There is a living principle underlying a railway bond, which applies to very few if any other securities. This:

1. Usually the solvency of a railway depends mainly upon its traffic, and as a rule that traffic steadily increases as the road grows older and the population along its route becomes richer and denser. In a word, the income of a railroad (and hence its debt paying ability) will ordinarially keep pace with the growth of the population.

2. A railroad, once built, rapidly creates a business which is to render it profitable. It develops a carying trade which did not before exist, and which grows much faster than the tributary population increases in numbers.

3. A railroad usually has back of it a strong corporation of capitalists and shrewd, energetic business men, whose profits, financial standing, commercial reputation, and official positions depend upon the solvency and success of the road with which they are identified. This powerful combination of private interests constitutes a living power whose efforts tend constantly to increase the profitableness and soundness of the enterprise in whose interest they are enlisted.

4. Finally, after a railroad is built, every dollar expended in making improvements and extensions, adding new facilities for doing business, and in securing valuable alliances with connecting lines, adds to the security of its first mortgage bonds, by augmenting the productiveness and value of the property on which these bonds were based. It is in this way that a second mortgage may increase the value of the first. With mortgages which rest upon improved real estate in our midst the security steadily deteriorates with time; as the improvements become less valuable. Railroads grow better and more valuable with age, and furnish a more constantly increasing security for debt created in their construction. It is for these reasons that first mortgage railroad bonds are among the very soundest securities that can be had.

II. The Northern Pacific railroad has a threefold solidity, which renders it financially impregnable. 1. It has for its broad and firm foundation a real estate endowment of more than twenty-two thousand acres of fertile land to each mile of track—or an unencumbered farm of 500 acres (in addition to the ordinary and ample security of the road and its traffic) to secure each $1000 bond bought by the public. 2. It has awaiting it a business which we believe is certain to render it self sustaining from the first and to give it a large surplus at an early day. 3. It is in the hands of men of known and acknowledged integrity, whose financial standing, business sagacity and thorough experience, furnish a complete guaranty that economy, energy, and fidelity will characterize its management.

III. Government does not in form guaranty the payment of Northern Pacific seven-thirties; but it indirectly insures their payment by donating unreservedly to the company sufficient productive lands to pay them twice over. The belt of country in which this superb domain is situated admirably combines the three elements essential to successful farming—viz: a naturally rich soil, a mild climate [the latitude being about two degrees below Paris, and six below London,] and sufficient rainfall.

IV. When there is no difference in point of safety, the comparative market value of various securities is mainly determined by their profitableness. In this view Northern Pacific gold seven-thirties selling at par in currency, are by far the cheapest investment of which we have knowledge. Regarded as a source of income, they are cheaper at par than a six per cent. gold bond at 82, and cheaper than six per cent. currency bond at 74½. In other words, one hundred dollars invested in Northern Preifics at par will produce a larger income than the same amount invested in a six per cent gold security at 82.

V. We regard it as highly probable that a large portion of the present holders of government bonds will be compelled to give them up in a comparative short time, and accept there for cash payment or a new five per cent bond. Everything now indicates that the government will soon be able to fund the bulk of its five-twenties at a lower rate of interest. Hence we have uniformly advised our subscribers to convert their government bonds into some first-class railroad security, having equal safety and greater permanence and productiveness.

VI. Of course, all securities, even those of the United States, are liable to occasional slight fluctuations in current price—the result of outside circumstances, and not of any change in real value. But the same causes which now render Norther Pacific seven-thirties an exceptionally strong and desirable security will naturally sustain them in the market, so that those who wish to convert their bonds into cash can do so at any time without loss Indeed, with their superabundant security and high rate of interest, 7 3-10 per cent. Northern Pacific Bonds are far more likely to go above par in price than to fall below.

As there is now a movement on foot having for its object a change of the constitution so as to conform to what are regarded as orthodox ideas in a religous sense—to put God and some of the leading points of Christian faith therein—those dissenting from this measure have issued the following address to all classes of people. We have heretofore adverted to this religous movement in terms of respectful dissent, as is the privilege of all, and now present the other side in the shape of a brief and comprehensive statement of the advocates of liberal views, who apprehend danger from there efforts to change the fundamental law of the land, and in their view, attempting to circumscribe that spirit which admonishes us to be tolerant in all things pertaining to matters of faith, and hold fast to that which is good. To us the address seems very reasonable in its tone, allowing all the widest range of religous thought and sentiment.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

The People's Free Conference, of the city of Washington, D. C., after mature deliberation on the subject, have determined to inaugurate a movement, the purpose of which is to secure a more perfect guarantee of the rights of individual conscience: to be styled the NATIONAL LIBERAL MOVEMENT, the aims and ends os which movement are herewith set forth; and we earnestly invite the cooperation and organized effort of all lovers of religous liberty, of every name, who feel the necessity of guarding this, one of the most sacred rights of man from all invasion. For the furtherance of this common interest, we recommend the erection of committees of cooperation in all parts of the country, from and around which the movement may be strenghthened, until a thoroughly organized sentiment shall be established against all National or State laws on the subject of religion inconsistent with our purpose.

We aim at the overthrow of no religion, or religious systems or belief: but we seek a universal religious liberty for all equally, without any, either direct or implied, discrimination. Our object is simply to make this, the United States of America, in reality, what it professes to be, viz: A land of religious liberty.

The following declarations embody the substance of our views:

1st. That the rights of conscience in matters of religious belief, are of the first importance to the moral life, piece and happiness of a people.

2d. That the true spirit of the political institutions of this country, as set forth in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States, and preamble to the same, is clearly for the establishment of this right, as against any legal discrimination between religious beliefs, or any authoritive enunciations thereon; and further, that the letter of the fundamental laws expressly declares for this liberty and protection.

3d. That we ask no more than is provided for in the aforesaid law, as touching this subject, when that law shall be justly interpreted and properly applied.

4.h. That we most solemnly and earnestly protest against all legislation, exhibiting either direct or indirect preferences in any manner whatever, on the subject of religion, or in any way giving a political sanction to religious dogmas, and especially against the favorable consideration of petitions to incorporate such dogmas in the Constitution of the United States.

5th. That the truths or falsities of religion are matters upon which the Government has no right to give an authoritative opinion, but to enforce order, and preserve peace and security for all.

6th. That we will as determinedly oppose the enactment of laws favoring our opinion, should such attempts be made, as we would oppose the enactment of laws against the opinions and beliefs of those whom we may deem in error, leaving all responsibility in the affairs of conscience, where it of right belongs—between the individual and the government of the universe.

THE MISSING TENNESSEE.

If the Tennessee had gone down, bearing unto a watery death three hundred passengers, among whom were some of the nation's best and noblest men, sent upon a mission from the nation, the Chicago Post says that the awful event would have been parallel to the great catastrophe which occured on board the Princeton bound up the Potomac, on the 28th of February, 1844, and having on board the President of the United States, John Tyler, the entire cabinet, with their wives and daughters, and a large number of Senators, members of Congress, and men and women distinguished in the society of the age. The occasion was a fete given by Captain Stockton, of the Princeton; and on board the vessel was a huge new gun, the "Peacemaker," a cruel misnomer, which shot a 225 pound ball. As Alexandria came in view, Captain Stockton said privately to the President and Cabinet that "he would fire a parting salute from the Peacemaker in honor George Washton, the great peacemaker of his country," and for their particular gratification, as the gun was an experiment in the machinery of death, and great curiosity prevailed with regard to its character. The President started up the cabin stairs, when the he was recalled to hear a toast proposed by young lady, then well known, Miss Wickliffe, who gave the sentiment, "The Flag of America: the only thing in America that will bear a stripe." The Secratary of State, Mr. Upshur, had also returned with the President, whom he again urged to the deck, that he might witness the firing, but the announcement of a national song detained Mr. Tyler, and Upshur went on deck alone. As the name of "Washington" was pronounced by the singer, loud came the report of the gun and in the midst of the excitement, the master of ceremonies called for three cheers. Before a voice could utter a responsive shout, the boatswain's mate rushed into the cabin, black with powder and blood dripping from his garments, exclaiming in broken sentences that the gun had exploded and killed everybody on deck. The cries of wives, whose husbands had been at their sides a moment before, the shrieks of daughters for their fathers, the rushing of men, and the fainting of women, the trembling of the ship and the cloud of smoke that enveloped the vessel above and below, without and within, combined to produce a scene almost indescribable for its pain and horror.

When the smoke had risen, the lower portion of the gun lay upon the lifeless bleeding body of the Secretary of State, who expired before he could be freed from its trammels. General Gilmer, of Virginia, lay senseless beside Mr. Upshur, and also expired before any assistance could be rendered him. Virgil Maxey, of Maryland, was horribly mutilated and had died instantly. Colonel Gardiner, a member of Congress from New York, lived half an hour, without, however, giving any token of consciousness; and Commodore Kennon, who had watched the gun with great interest, lay mangled and senseless, and breathed his last at the same time. The Secretary of War Judge Wilkins, did not trust the gun, and had retired a moment before the firing, thus saving his life. The wife of General Gilmer, with eyes fixed and tearless, gazed at the dead body of her husband, to whom she was passionately attatched, and who had been dancing with her an hour previously. Dumb with agony, white with terror, and quivering with anguish of the scene, she was borne away by sorrow-strick en friends, and suddenly sent back upon the affrighted air shriek upon shriek of madness and despair. The daughters of Commodore Gardiner threw themselves upon the corpse of their father and piteously bemoaned his cruel death.

The victims were conveyed to Washington, the coffins were laid within their final resting place in the Congressional burying ground.

FURTHER LANGUAGE FROM TRUTHFUL JAMES.

[NYE'S FORD STANISLAUS]

1870.

Do I sleep? do I dream?
Do I wonder and doubt?
Are things what they seem,
Or is visions about?
Is our civilization a failure?
Or is the Caucasian played out?

Which expressions are strong,
Yet would feebly imply
Some account of a wrong—
Not to call it a lie—
As was worked off on William, my pardner,
Which his name it was W. Nye

He came down to the Ford
On the very same day
Of that Lottery, drawed
By those sharps at the Bay;
And he says to me, "Truthfully how goes it?"
I replied, "It is far from gay—

"For the camp has gone wild
On this Lotteay game,
And has even beguiled
Injin Dick, by the same."
Which, said Nye to me, "Injins is pizen—
Do you know what his number is, James?"

I replied "7, 2,
9, 8, 4, is his hand;"
Which he started—and drew
Out a list, which he scanned;
Then he softly went for his revolver,
With language I cannot command

Then I said, "William Nye?"
But he turned upon me,
And the look in his eye
Was quit painful to see,
And he says, "You mistake; this poor injin
I protect from such sharps as you be!"

I was shocked and withdrew:
But I grieve to relate,
When he next met my view
Injin Dick was his mate
And the two around town was lying
In a frightful dissolute state.

Which the war dance they had
Round the tree at the Bend,
Was a sight that was sad,
And it seemed that the end
Would not justify the proceeding,
As I quietly remarked to a friend.

For that Injin he fled
The next day to his band;
And we found William spread
Very loose on the strand,
With a peaceful like smile on his fetures,
And a dollar greenback in his hand.

Which, the same when rolled out
We observed with surprise,
What that Injin, no doubt,
Had believed was the prize—
Them fixtures in red in the corner.
Which the number of notes specifies.

Was it guile, or a dream?
Is it Nye that I doubt?
Are things what they seem,
Or is visions about?
Is our civilization a failure?
Or is the Caucasian played out.

OHIO LIQUOR LAWS.

The growing interest in the suppression of the liquor traffic in this country may be subserved by stating briefly what the laws now in force prohibit, and what redress the victims of intemperance have at their disposal, when the law is properly administered:

1. Every sale of spirituous liquors on Sunday or election days.

2. To buy furnish, sell or give any intoxicating liquors to any person intoxicated, or to a minor, without the written order of the parent, guardian or family physician, is forbidden.

3. The sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors, in any quantity, to be drank on or about the premises. From this section is excepted native wine; beer, ale and cider; but this exception is not extended to other cases.

4. The sale of intoxicating liquors within four miles of a camp meeting held in an open field or woodland. The penalties prescribed under the several heads vary from $5 to $100, and in some cases imprisonment from ten to thirty days.

5. Tippling houses may be declared nuisances and closed up.

6. Persons intoxicated may be fined five dollars.

7. Families deprived of support, by the sale to the husband of intoxicating liquors, may have damages against the party making the sale, in a civil action.

8. Persons taking care of and providing for intoxicated persons, may recover compensation against the party furnishing the liquor.

9. Persons keeping ninepin alleys, or permitting it to be kept, in connection with retailing spirituous liquors, or the keeping of a public house, are liable to a fine of $500.

Three weeks ago a bill passed the Ohio senate, and is now a law, providing for the appointment of guardians for habitual drunkards.

THE HEROIC ENGINEER.

David Simmons was the engineer of the Pacific express train. He was a true man. For twenty years he held a place on an engine. Years ago, while dashing past Yonkers, Simmons called the attention of his fireman to a train which was sweeping down upon them like the wind. A collision seemed inevitable. The frightened fireman shouted, 'Good-bye, Dor; I am going to jump,' and sprang from the locomotive Simmons stood with his hand upon the throttle of his engine like a man of iron. In the face of startling peril he remembered his duty, and stood at his post. A collision was averted, and the heroic engineer saved the lives of a hundred men.

On Monday night David Simmons was driving his engine toward Albany at the rate of forty miles an hour Near New Hamburg a red light was swung out as from an approaching train. The engineer saw it. It was the signal of danger. David Simmons whistled down brakes, in the vain hope of stopping the express in time. His fireman again took the alarm, and shouted to Simmons to leap for life. The noble Simmons calmly answered, 'I won't; I'll stay with my engine.' Again he stood like a man at his post. The fireman sprang and saved his life. The engineer saw a train on the bridge. He realized that his only hope of safety was to dash through the obstruction. He whistled off the brakes, and crowded on all his steam. This was the work of an instant. Simmons peered into the darkness, shading his eyes with his hand, and was dashed into the jaws of death.

David Simmons was a hero. His fate is sad; but his noble behavior is the only bright page in the dark history of the awful accident at New Hamburg.

Miss. Julia ward Howe told a Detroit audience the other evening how she wrote the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the best hymn of the war. She said: "I was on a visit to Washington, during the first winter of the war, with Governor Andrew and other Massachusetts friends. We had been spending the day in the soldiers camps on the Potomac, and I heard the John Brown Hymn' sung and played so often that its strains were constantly sounding in my ears. As the words in use seemed an inadequate expression of the music, I wished very much for an inspiration which would provide a fitting rendition of so beautiful a theme. But it did not come, and I retired to bed. Early in the morning, before daybreak, I awoke, and my mind in half-dreaming state began at once upon the rythm of the 'John Brown Hymn.' Very soon the words commenced fitting themselves to its measure, and the lines spun off with out further effort. I said to myself, 'now I shall lose all this unless I get it down in black and white.' I arose, groped about in the dark, collected such stationery as may be found in the room of a Washington hotel, sat down and wrote, as I frequently do without lighting a lamp, the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic.'"

The principal that the dealers in intoxicating drinks should be held legally responsible for the evil consequences that ensue from the traffic has often been presented by writers on intemperance, but has generally been rejected as impracticable. Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio, however, proposses to try it in the District of Columbia and the Territories of the United States. His bill introduced in the house, on the 4th ins, and referred to the committee on the District of Columbia, provides that every wife, child, parent, guardian, husband, employer or other person, who shall be injured directly indirectly by intoxicating liquor, shall have a right of action against any person or persons who shall have caused such intoxications. In any such action, moreover, the plaintiff shall have a right to recover past, prospective and exemplary damages. The money recovered by any wife in any action under the law is to be her sole and separate property. Any sale or gift of any intoxicating liquors by the lessee of any premises, resulting in damage is to work a forfeiture of the lease.

In Michigan, grand juries have been abolished. The law provides that the District Attorney shall present all crimes for trial by indictment and that no information shall be presented, except in cases, which have been first examined by Justice of the Peace. Should the District Attorney decline to draw an information, he is directed to report the case with the evidence to the Circuit Judge. The law further provides for an arraignment before the County Judge, so that if the defendent should plead guilty, he may at once be sentenced, and not be compelled to lie in jail awaiting the session of the Circuit Court. A similar law has been introduced into the Wisconsin Legislature.

Mark Twain thus answers the inquiry of a "young Author" in the Galaxy: "Young author"—Yes, Agassiz does recommend authers to eat fish, because the phosphorus in it makes brains. So far you are correct. But I cannot help you to a decision about the amount you need to eat—at least, not with a certainty. If the specimen composition you send is about your fair usual average, I should think that perhaps a couple of whales would be all you would want for the present.—Not the largest kind, but simply good meddling sized whales.

An excentric though very excellent clergyman of New England gave notice at the close of the service one Sunday that he expected to go on a mission to the heathen during the ensuing week. Alarmed and sorrow-stricken at the prospect of losing their beloved pastor, the members of the church gathered around him, and one of the deacons, in great agitation, exclaimed: "what shall we do?" "Oh, Brother C——," said the minester, with great apparent ease, "I dont expect to go out of town."

CONVENTION AT AKRON.

For several years there has been in existence in this state an organization known as the Ohio Association of editors, which was constituted for the purpose of having an annual gathering, and transacting such business as properly came before them, and having a pleasant social reunion. A little less than two months ago somebody suggested that Akron be the place, and the 23d of February the time named for the convocation this year. This invitation was responded to by the press of our state generally, and received favorable attention from prominent gentlemen of the profession in other states. The time named found nearly eighty of the fraternity congregated in the thrifty and pleasant city of Akron. To a portion of us it was something new, as it was the first time we had ever attended such a convention, but before it was over we found it good to be there, and a right pleasant meeting it was to all present.

When it was fully settled that Akron was to be the point at which the gathering was to be held, the enterprising, public spirited business men of the place made it a point to render the occasion a success. And they did not stop until they had done everything necessary to this end. The brotherhood found all the citizens a unit in feeling as to the importance of the meeting, so that every visitor felt at home while sojourning there. No doubt but each member will do his best in referring to the hosts of hosts found there, (for the latch string was out all over town,) and mete out unstinted praise to the hospitality of our wide awake neighbors. They richly deserve the best efforts their guests can contribute in the columns of the numerous papers over which they preside.

The headquarters was at the fine rooms known as Good's Commercial Block, Market st., where members of the press met, registered their names, and were assigned places of abode during their stay. As the fraternity is noted for its scribbling propensities, all the facilities for indulging in that way were offered free, in those rooms, and not a few availed themselves of this kindness. At the hour appointed the association met at Sumner's Opera House, a finely finished building on Howard st. Members were called to order by C. N. Nichols, of Springfield, Vice president, as the president was absent. In a well prepared address, delivered by J. P. Alexander, president of the city council, guests of the city were heartily welcomed to the hospitalities at the homes and the firesides of the people of Akron. The presiding officer briefly tendered thanks on behalf of the convention, for the cordial and eloquent welcome thus extended to the members.

The business of appointing committees for different purposes was attended to. We have not room to report the doings in full nor would they be of interest to our readers. Suffice it to say, the discussions were pleasantly conducted, and harmony of feeling prevailed in all the proceedings. The question of postage and publishing the laws of the state elicited some discussion, but no action taken on either. In remarks on the latter point some of the brethren were manifestly not very favorably disposed toward the Cincinnati Commercial, and even when other questions were up some one would give that paper a little shot. But generally the debates were conducted in a genial spirit, such as might profitably be imitated by our state and national legislators.

Here were scores of men together, a portion of whom had been battling each other in their respective papers in political matters, but in all their intercourse on this occasion not a partizan sentiment was heard—it seemed as if every member had wisely left his politics at home, and for the time treated his brethren in the great work of aiding to enlighten the people in a spirit of fraternal friendship. Bro. McGregor of the Stark County Democrat, Bro. Estill of the Holmes County Farmer, and Bro. Eshelman of the Wayne County Democrat, all of them pretty rank defenders of their political faith were in full communion with father Saxton and Bro. Hartzel of the Pop. and Rep and Bro. Bascom, editors of leading republican papers, and all the rest, and not an allusion was made to their controversies with each other; on the other hand the effort was to discourage and frown down all disposition for indulging in personalities. This is as it should be.

Conspicuous among these present was father Saxton, of Canton, now near 80 years old, who has been about 56 years connected with one paper, and during that period never missed but one week; and the venerable father Harmon, of Bavenna, now about 81 or 82 years of age. Others were present who could boast their two score years experience in the art preservative, but a majority was made up of young and vigorous men many of whom are making their mark as journalists.

The first day the fire companies paraded, preceded by excellent bands of music, and this exhibition was very creditable to the people of Akron. Two steamers were in the procession.

In the evening the newspaper men went to the skating rink, where they witnessed many fine exhibitions of skill on the ice.

Afterward the brotherhood, with a large number of the citizens of the place, in all numbering some 300 or more, attended a sumptous banquet, which was gotten up in fine style, having a vast variety of eatables, sufficient to sate the most fastidious appetite. One of the finest arrangements about it all was, that not a drop of intoxicating liquors marred the pleasure of the feast. This is a noble example which we hope future gatherings of this body will carry out. The feast having been disposed of toasts and responses were in order. A number of sentiments were proposed, followed with well timed remarks from various speakers. The large and elegant hall was beautifully festooned with evergreens and decorated with flowers, and all around on the walls were emblems and mottoes, significant and expressive of the nature of the gathering.

Judge Sloan of the Ottawa Union responded to the sentiment, The American Union—L. Harper of the Mt. Vernon Banner, answered the toast, The Newspaper Press of Ohio—A. McGregor of the Stark County Democrat addressed the audience on the memory of Benjamin Franklin—Capt. McClure of the Wooster Republican, responded to the sentiment, The Conservative powers of the Nation, the press, the pulpit, and the common schools—W. W. Armstrong of the Cleveland Plaindealer, amused his hearers with a funny speech on miscellaneous points—and E. B. Eshelman of the Wooster Democrat (a bachelor brother) made a neat little speech in response to the toast, The Ladies. Volunteer sentiments were responded to by different speakers. All together it was a most pleasant occasion, and will long be remembered by those who participated. Thus ended the first day.

The convention re assembled on Friday morning at the same place, and proceeded to business. A disposition was manifest at this session to enter into the discussion of important measures, so several propositions were introduced, some of which met with favor while others were rejected. Bro. Rukenbrod of the Salem Republican presented a resolution which prevailed, appointing a committee of three whose duty it shall be to present at the next annual meeting propositions or resolutions of a practical nature, having for their object the advancement of journalism. Another suggestion was made that a committee of one be appointed to collect and present to the next convention all available facts in regard to the early history of the press of Ohio—carried. As this is an unfavorable time of the year for holding of such a meeting it was decided that the next be held on the 11th of July, 1871, at Cleveland. W. T. Bascom, of Mt. Vernon, was chosen president; Joshua Saxton, of Urbana, and S. D. Harris, of Bavanna, vice presidents; S. L. Everett Akron, secretary. Having completed business of the convention the assemblage adjourned.

The kindness and attentions of our Akron friends did not stop yet, for after giving their numerous guests excellent dinners, they were again brought together at headquarters, where carriages were provided for the purpose of carrying them through the city, in order to show them the principal manufacturing establishments of the place—for they have more than forty altogether. Having the liberty of the town we were presented with the workings of a large number of extensive manufacturing establishments, where are successfully carried on different branches of useful industry. In looking over them we could not avoid seeing the great secret of success so closely allied with our neighboring city. The enterprising men of the place employ thousands of ingenious and industrious workers, whose sagacity and skill are a guarantee of prosperity to those who have the ability to carry on such gigantic enterprises. There are too many of them for us to particularize in these columns. Let such as doubt these things about our neighbors call and see for themselves. While there we were well entertained at the private residence of Mr. Joseph E. Wesener, where were also quartered Bro. Eshelman of the Wooster Democrat, and Bro. Knox of the Reporter at Cuyahoga Falls. Mr. Wesener, our kind host, is a native of this vicinity, and is now an energetic, prosperous business man at his adopted home. Thus endeth the visit to Akron, and it is very imperfectly told.

The brief address which appears on the first page, for consideration by the people of the United States, is marred with a number of typographical errors, but these are so common in newspapers that we pay little attention to them, though they are a source of annoyance at times. Why we refer to this fact at present is, to correct one mistake of omission, and that is, the name of the president of the association from some cause is not appended to the article. Mr. Isaac Rehn, of Philadelphia, a gentleman highly esteemed by all who know him, is the presiding officer in this movement.

One evening last week a spicy little episode took place in Mr. Shafer's opera hall, at Canton. Mr. Buckingham, the Presbyterian minester, was charged with having stated that said hall was the "gate to hell." In a note to Mr. S. Mr. B. denied having used these words. Mr. Shafer, however, when his hall was full of people, who came to witness a home exhibition of the famed Aladdin Lamp, charged Mr. B. with implying the obnoxious sentiment in his note, and answered what he regarded as a wrong charge in pretty strong terms, claiming that the drama was not bad, and intimated that even the church was sometimes perverted to evil purposes.

It is a source of bitter complaint to orderly people, to lecturers, and to all who go to hear and to receive instructions, that there is a class who attend such places for mere idle curiosity, and make themselves conspicuous by their ill manners in going out during the speaking, causing all the noise they can well make everywhere. The first element of good manners for this class to acquire is, that they try to learn to keep away from lectures that they have not sense to appreciate. Burnt cork is their standard of perfection; anything above it is to them a desert waste; and if there is any palliation for their execrable course it exists in the fact that they are in blissful ignorance of what is due to others' comfort, and know of nothing higher than self.

Peace is at last established by the warring parties in Europe. Prussia claims, so far as we can now see, indemnity in the shape of territory, including Lorraine and Alsace, with the cities of Metz and Nancy, and money variously reported at from $240,000,000 to $1,500,000,000. What kind of a government the French will choose is not yet decided upon, but whatever form it may be the nation has a fearful load of debt impending. It is not probable that nation will make a war of aggression soon. The Germans wisely concluded not to march through Paris, as was contemplated a few days since.

The ladies of the Home Relief will meet at the residence of Martha Heckman, on Thursday afternoon. Friends are cordially invited to attend, and those who cannot to send in such articles as shall make the hearts of the poor glad.

A serious fire took place last Friday night at Canton, by which the large carriage manufactory of Wert & King was partly burnt.

About the same time several barns were burned at or near Wooster by incendiaries. It is said the Wooster marshal arrested one of the covies here last Sunday.

STANDARD PRINCIPLES.

There should be standard principles in medicine as well as philosophy.

Without a "zero" to start from, or a standard from which to calculate the deviations, the principles and practice of medicine, in fact the principles of any art or science, cannot be satisfactorily elucidated or properly understood.

The art and science of medicine is divided into several special departments, each having their standard principles which form the basis for their scientific elucidations.

Every particular part of the human body has had its average natural properties, constituents, quantities, &c. reduced upon scientific principles to a standard of nearly definite proportions in health.

This serves for the more correct elucidation of disease by comparison and measurement of the deviations form the healthy standard. Thus the average proportionate constituents of the blood in health being reduced to a standard, any considerable deviation from this standard quality of the blood is disease.

The same in the urinary excretion; the average natural proportionate constituents of the urine in health form the standard, and considerable deviation from which basis, either in proportion or constituents, exhibits disease.

This latter is a practical fact which we are daily demonstrating at our office, No. 132 Grant street, and which any can have tested to their entire satisfaction by sending a standard specimen (morning's urine) for scientific analysis and examination.

Be sure to give the age of the patient at the same time, as the urine varies in proportionate constituents in the different ages of infancy, childhood, manhood and old age.

The name and residence of each patient should be given, also, in order to avoid confusion of cases where medicines are taken.

FINANCIAL.

New 7-30 Gd Loan

of the Northern Racific Railroad Co.

Secured by first mortgage on railroad and land grant,

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT

J. COOKE & CO

Offer for sale at par and accrued interest the first mortgage land grant gold bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States tax, and are issued of the following denominations; Coupons $100, $500, and $1,000; Registered $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, and $10,000.

With the same entire confidence with which we commended government bonds to capitalists and people, we now, after the fullest investigation, recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.

Gold Payment.—Both the principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of Jay Cooke & Co., New York city—the principal at the end of 30 years, and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum) half yearly, first of January and July.

Perfect Safety.—The bonds we are now selling, are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property and rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., which will embrace on the completion of the work:

1. Over two thousand miles of road, with rolling stock, buildings, and all other equipments.

2. Over twenty two thousand acres of land to every mile of finished railroad. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than fifty million acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on either side of track, and extending in a broad belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington to Puget Sound.

While the government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon a great national improvement.

The Mortgage.—The trustees under the mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, president of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interest of the first mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security, at least 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

Profitableness.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the government is no longer a borrower, and as the nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of developing a continent, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security, that United States 5 20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5½ per cent gold interest. Should they be reduced in five years, and specie payment be resumed, they would really pay only 4⅜ per cent, or if in three years, only 3½ per cent. as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.

Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax. $1,000 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62. $1,000 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-3's will yield per year in gold, $80,30. There is a difference in annual income of nearly one third. Besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.

The Road Now Building.—Work was begun in July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the company's bonds, to build and equip the road from lake superior across Minnesota to the Red river of the north—233 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and wise economy.

Receivable for Lands.—These bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable at 1.20, in payment for the company's lands, at their lowest cash price.

Bonds Exchangeable.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principal and interest, at any of the principal financial centres of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.

How to Get Them.—Your nearest bank or banker will supply these bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further particulars pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the banks or bankers employed to sell this loan.

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by railway conductors, engineers and expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as the real value of these time-keeper.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pocket of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch making originating in this country and in Europe only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main-springs, is only with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair spring, now universally admitted by watchmaker to be the bests, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our patent stem-winder, or keyless watch is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of various styles made by the Company are as follows:

American Watch Co., Waltham, Mass.
Amn. Watch Co., Waltham, Mass
American Watch Co, Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.
Appleton, Tracy & Co., Waltham' Mass.
Waltham Watch Co, Waltham, Mass,
P. S. Bartlett, Waltham, Mass.
Wm. Ellery, Waltham, Mass.
Home Watch Co., Boston, Mass.

Examine the spelling of these names before buying. Any variation even of a single letter indicates a counterfiet

For sale by the leading jewelers. No watches retailed by the Company.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

LOCAL MATTERS.

The Y. M. C. A. of this place have taken the rooms lately occupied by Mr. Lowe, near the Union National Bank, and will soon have it prepared for use. It is a convenient locality, and we hope will be well patronized by our young men. It would be well if those who have good books which they can spare will contribute them to the library of this association.

Some hungry thief a few nights ago entered the smoke house of Mr. Duley, at the Charity School and carried off a considerable quantity of meat. He has big feet, and went across the canal.

The following are the grand officers elect of the grand lodge I. O. O. F. of Ohio: Ira H. Bird, Grand Master; Addison Learson, Deputy Master; John H. Ogden, Grand Warden; W. C. Earl, Grand Secretary; Geo. D. Winchell, Treasurer; Henry Lindenberg, Grand Rep. The next session of the Grand Lodge will be held in Toledo on the first Tuesday of May next.

Somebody remarked on last Saturday that there was more than ordinary amount of drunkenness on the streets. That fact is not creditable to any place. No doubt there is a large amount of drinking indulged in here, but as a general rule it is not manifested on the streets; and we are not sure that with the extra exhibitions of this kind noted on Saturday, that the private rooms of the calaboose were encumbered with drunken inmates, or even with those who made them so.

Last Friday the wind was very high here—in a scale of 0 to 10 it would reach to 6 or 8 perhaps. Hats and bonnets flew around loose if not anchored closely to the heads of people, and many a person was hurriedly seen scampering through mud after a flying tile as it gyrated through the air. It was on that day the cry of fire was raised, when it was seen that Warwick & Co's warehouse roof was burning. The Canada Hose Co. was promptly on hand, and before serious damage was done completely extinguished the flames. It was fortunate they did so, for the high wind and the frame buildings surrounding the place of danger would have made a terrible conflagration. Too much praise cannot be awarded to the firemen and those who aided them for their quick and efficient action in arresting the fire at once. And this instance is but another proof of the utility of our water works, which has so often before saved vast amounts of endangered property.

The railroad project, to connect north and south of us, and which is to make Massillon a point, is taking a more definate shape. A meeting at Cleveland was held one day last week, and judging from the proceedings an increasing interest and necessity is felt by them in behalf of this movement. When that class of men take hold of a project it is bound to be a success.

We shall publish next week a brief account of the prohibition convention held at Delaware, this state, on the 22d inst. The following is the ticket then and there nominated: G. T. Stewart Norwalk, for governor; L. B. Silver, Salem, board of public works; S. E. Adams, Cleveland, judge supreme court; T. Evens, Jr., Delaware, treasurer; J. W. Stincheomb, Logan, at orney general; S Howard, Athens, comptroler; Azra Alderman, McConnelsville, clerk of supreme court; W. B. Chadwick, Columbus, auditor of state. Already have the politicians begun to complain of these nominations. They can put them out of the way by nominating good temperance men in their places.

Messrs. Setterlin & Shearer are about to start a meat shop at their old stand on Erie street.

Mr. Diellenn's room just west of us has been nicely fixed up, and is about ready for occupancy. It is greatly improved, and will make a pleasant and conveniently located place of business. The store room of Mausz & Son, a little west of the canal is also nearly ready for the reception of their shoe store.

The state board of equalizatien has increased the valuation of real estate, in Stark county, ten per cent., and for Canton and Massillon the increase is fifteen per cent.

ED. INDEPENDENT—Sir: In the last No. of the Massilion American I read a communication over the signature of Tax Payer, in which he would seem to caution the citizens of Massillon against voting for me as Street Commissioner, as I would not be a competent person to int ust with the expenditure of eight or ten thousand dollars. Now, Mr. Tax Payer, a man of your talent and education ought to inform yourself better; the Street Commissioner is intrusted with no money except the two days labor when paid in cash, the balance is drawn from the city treasury on orders issued by the council. He also says I spent most of my time with spade and mattock in hand performing the office of a day laborer in localities where streets are called roads, which is false, as I have not expended over twenty dollars worth of labor outside the old corporation limits in 1870; and I have seen as honest looking men as him earn their living with spade and mattock. The only trouble with him is he dont like to work; he would much rather boss a job.

And in reply to a communication in same paper over the signature of Many Citizens, the crossings refered to are now the best in the city. The citizens do not always know the truth in regard to getting material to build sidewalks and street crossings. I have not been able to get more than thirty cart loads of cinder suitable for sidewalks in the last three months. Mr. Joseph Seiler has purchased all they can make at the paper mill until the 15 of April, to put on North St. Find me the material and I will make the sidewalks and crossings good. Tax Payer says they have not been so bad in ten years; last year a great many citizens said I had done more work of that kind than had been done in ten years, and for that work recieved the anathemas of some men of high standing in the community. Any road or sidewalk that I make I warrant to be good, and Tax Payer need not warn the citizens about my inability to spend money in the construction of roads or sidewalks. I expect to be a candidate for re-election, and if the citizens think I have not done my duty they can express their opinions at the ballot box. JOHN HEWES.

THE PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

The present term of the Pittsburgh Female College will close on Thursday March 16th. and the spring term commences on the morning of the 21t. We have often commended the College to our readers, and assure them that the institution was never more worthy their patronage than at the present. Every year has witnessed some improvement. The buildings, one hundred and forty eight feet in length, are fitted up and furnished in good style, and carpeted throughout. The faculty has gradually increased until it now numbers twenty-two. There are four teachers of music, native teachers of French and German, and special teachers for the department of drawing and painting, needlework, waxwork, &c., in addition to a full corps of teachers in the literary department. As a result of these things the college offers advantages and facilities which but few institutions can give, and at rates which prove that the trustees are impelled by higher considerations than the hope of gain. Those having the management earnestly invite all persons interested to call and make themselves acquainted with the accommodations and facilities afforded, and to be present at the daily recitations and the examinations at the close of the term. Send to the President, Rev. I. C. Pershing, D. D. for a catalogue.

Cheering Fact for the Billious.

Every day demonstrates more clearly that liver complaint, in all its distressing forms, can be controlled and cured without difficulty or inconvenience. It is an obstinate disease, but its odstinacy is not proof against the pertinacious, remedical and restorative operation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That genial corrective compels the organ to do its duty. It must secrete regularly and healthfully under the influence of the Bitters. Their action brings it back from a state of rebellion into perfect harmony with the laws of health. If there is costiveness, it disappears; if there is side-ache or backache, it ceases; if the skin and the white of the eyes are tinged with superfluous bile, they recover their natural hue; if the appetite is gone, it returns; if the digestion is impaired, it is restored; in brief, whatever the symptoms of the complaint may be, and whatever the phase it has assumed, a cure is certain. Such are the uniform effects of this preparation where billious disease has been already developed; but in cases where there is merely a constitutional tendency to liver complaint, it may be prevented throughout life by the regular use, in small quantities, of this palatable antidote. These are proven facts, and should be seriously pondered by all persons of billious habit.

DR. WHITTLESEY, ERQ.

Dear Sir:—Having stated it verbally to you, I have no hesitation in writing the fact, although not disposed in favor or to recommend patent medicines in general.

I do this more readily in regard to the sick headache cure prepared by Dr. Whittlesey, of Norwalk, Ohio. I have analyzed and tried it, and I recommend it as one of the best dyspepsia cures ever invented, and I feel that in recommending Whittlesey's cure I am doing at act of justice to the compounder of it, and an act of benevolence to those afflicted with dyspepsia and sick headache for which it is recommended.

Yours Respectfully,
FRANCIS RAAS, M. D.

Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar coated, from the fact that sugar coated pills do not dissolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. The Catawba Grape Pills, being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar coated, Price 50 cents per box.

Hoofland's GermanBitters,

Hoofland's German Tonic,

Hoofland's Podophyllin Pill

Hoofland's Greek Oil.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure juices or vital principle of roots herbs, and barks, (or as medicinally termed extracts), the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one bottle of this bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtueus will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The roots &c., used in this bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific chemist and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a benecial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases where some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the tonic properties of the bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the bitters, combined with pure Santa Cruz Rum, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the bitters. The price of the tonic is $1,50 per bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain only the best ingredients, and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound will most certainly be cheated.

They are the greatest known Remedies

For Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Jaundice, Disease of the Kidneys, Eruptions of the Skin, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver, or Stomach, or Impurity of the Blood.

Read the following symptoms:

Constipation, flatulence, inward piles, fulness of blood to the head, acidity of the stomach, nausea, heartburn, disgust for food, fullness or weight in the stomach, sour eructations, sinking or flutteringat the pit of the stomach, swiming of the head, hurried or difficult breathing, fluttering at the heart choking or suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, dimness of vision, dots or webs before the sight, dull pain in the head, deficiency of perspiration, yellowness of the skin, and eyes, pain in the side, back, chest, limbs, &c, sudden flushes of heat, burning in the flesh, constant imaginings of evil, and great depression of spirits. All these indicate disease of the liver or digestive organs combined with impure blood.

The use of the bitters or tonic will soon cause the above symptoms to disappear, and the patient will become well and healthy.

Dr. Hoofland's Greek Oil,

LIGHTNING CURE FOR ALL KINDS OF PAINS AND ACHES.

APPLIED INTERNALLY.—It will cure kidney complaints, backaches, sick headaches, colic, dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera Infantum, cholera morbus, cramps, and pains in the stomach, fever and ague, colds, coughs Asthma, &c;

APPLIED EXTERNALLY.—It will cure all kinds of pains and aches, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, chilblains, sprains bruises, frost bites, headaches, pains in the back and loins, pains in the joints or limbs, stings of insects, ringworms, &c.

Dr Hoofland's Podophyllin

Substitute for Mercury Pill.

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The most powerful, yet innocent vegetable cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the liver, stomach and bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the alcoholic extract of mandrake which is by many times more powerful, acting, and searching, than the mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They never fail,

In cases of liver complaint, dyspepsia, and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitterrs or tonic should be used in connection with the pills. The tonic effects of the bitters or tonic builds up the system. The bitters or tonic purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, regulates the liver and gives strength, energy, and vigor.

Keep your bowels active with the pills, and tone up the system with bitters or tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

These medicines are sold by all druggists and dealers in medicines everywhere.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies, that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These remedies will be sent by express to any locality, upon application to the principal office, at the German Medical Store, 631 Arch Street, Pa.

Chas. M. Evans, Prop.

Formerly C. M. Jackson & Co.

These remedies are for sale by druggists, storekeepers, and medicine dealers, everywhere throughout the United States, Canadas, So America and the West Indies. 380-1y.

Is now Seven Years Old, and

"Still Lives."

Without boasting of being an organ of immense influence, we may with diffidence claim that the paper is not without usefulness in the right direction, ever contending for justice on all the living issues of the day. But its principal business has ever been to subserve the local interests of the community with which it is identified, and so it proposes to continue. Its home record of the ever varying phases of business, of the prosperity of the city, and of the social and moral state of society here, with other matters too numerous to specify, will give those who come after us, and have occasion to examine the files of this paper, a faithful history of the years of its existence.

We solicit the continued patronage of our people in the confidence that we shall render satisfaction—at least as near as as we can come at it—and for such as are removing elsewhere we hope to make the INDEPENDENT a very welcome visitor.

Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters,

Just Published in a Sealed Envelope, Price six cents. A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal weakness, involuntary seminal losses, impotency, mental and physical incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc; also, consumption, epilepsy, and fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Continues to treat all private diseases, syphilis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhea or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

JOS. COLEMAN.

I do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures consumption, when the lungs are half consumed, in short, will cure all diseases whether of mind, body, or estate, make men live forever, and leave death to play for want of work, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which heaven itself shall be but a side show. You have heard enough of that kind of humbuggery. But when I tell you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure the worst cases of catarrh in the head, I only assert that which thousands can testify to. I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. A pamphlet giving symptoms and other information sent free to any address. This remedy is Sold by Most Druggists in all parts of the World.

Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of sixty cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my private stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. Remember that this private stamp issued by the U S government expressly for stamping my medicines, has my portrait name and address and the words U S Certificate of Genuineness engraved upon it, and need not be mistaken. Don't be swindled by travelers and others representing themselves as Dr. Sage, I am the only man now living that has the knowledge and right to manufacture the genuine Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I never travel to sell this medicine.
